

Priority Response – Emergency Medical Program

Do you use life-support equipment?

Westfield Gas + Electric works hard to provide reliable electric service to all customers. We understand it is especially important for customers that have life support equipment at home.

If life support equipment is used at your residence and dependent on electric service, you can apply for Priority Response status on your location. Eligibility criteria for Priority Response status includes:

- Active WG+E electric service at the location;
- Individual requiring life support equipment resides at the service location;
- Completion of an annual Emergency Medical Certification form with input from a registered medical provider;
- WG+E approval.

When a customer is approved for Priority Response status, a tag is placed on the wire or transformer servicing the location to ensure that field personnel know critical medical equipment is in use at the residence. Customers with Priority Response status on their account also receive advanced notice for scheduled outages, when possible, and severe storm watches and warnings with the potential to cause extended outages, i.e, severe thunderstorms, hurricanes, tropical storms, tornados, blizzards, heavy snow, and ice storms.

We will do everything we can to provide a safe and reliable electricity supply. Please note, registering as a life support customer does not guarantee continuous 24-hour power supply to the premise or early service restoration in the event of an outage. Despite our best efforts, electric lines are vulnerable to storms, lightning, and motor vehicle accidents. We strive to restore service efficiently for all customers, but especially to those on the Priority Response list. In the event of widespread outages, however, our crews must work in an orderly manner when restoring service, and we may not be able to provide priority restoration to your location. Therefore, WG+E strongly suggests that customers who depend on electrical equipment for a medical necessity have emergency plans in place in case the power goes out for an extended period. These plans may include a back-up power source, extra medical supplies or an alternate location until the outage is over.

Please call Customer Service at 413-572-0100 if you have additional questions. The Priority Response – Emergency Medical form is available for download on our website: www.wgeld.org.
